

HOME FUND PLEDGE RAISED TO $7,650

Campaign to Locate Indiana Knights of Pythias Home Under Way
Following Banquet

COMMUNITY IS PRAISED

Speakers Point to its Advantages and Harry Wade Indicates That He is Interested

With $7,650 pledged at a banquet at St. Paul's M. E. church Tuesday night, the campaign to locate the proposed Indiana Knights of Pythias home in the vicinity of Rushville was well under way today and the continuation of the drive for funds was in the hands of a committee to make a thorough canvass.

"You can locate this home if you want to," was the parting note from Harry Wade, head of the insurance department of the K. of P. lodge and chairman of the committee raising the fund for the home. "It's only a question of doing it. Your location is right and other things entering into consideration of a site are right."

Thus did Mr. Wade, who was a guest at the banquet, express himself and gave evidence of being impressed by the qualifications of this community, presented by speakers, as a home site.

There were six $500 pledges, three for $300, four for $200, two for $150 and the remainder were for $100 and $50. The committee is hoping to increase some of the $500 pledges to $1,000 and raise some of the $300 and $200 pledges to $500.

The general committee in charge of the solicitation is composed of S. L. Trabue as chairman, Harry G. Francis, R. L. Tompkins, G. P. Hunt, H. Green, Jack Knecht, G. P. Hunt, Will O. Fendner, Warder Wyatt, H. S. Havens, Will Trennepohl, Manly Pearce, James Waite, Glen Foster, H. C. Flint, Lee Pyle, John A. Tittsworth, A. L. Riggs, George Griesser, Miss Anna L. Bohannon and Hugh E. Mauzy.

John A. Tittsworth presided during the program following the fried chicken dinner, which was served by the women of the church, and introduced J. T. Arbuckle, a trustee of the Indiana Odd Fellows home, who explained the advantages of the home to the community; also C. E. Walden, a former resident of Franklin, who spoke of what the Indiana Masonic home had meant to Franklin; Mr. Wade, who talked on the advantages of an institution like the one proposed, and S. L. Trabue, who had charge of raising the pledges.

Between each address, Mr. Tittsworth sandwiched in some boasts for Rushville, speaking directly to Mr. Wade in an effort to impress him with the value of Rushville as a home location. He pointed out that the community is unsurpassed in rail facilities, soil fertility, beautiful homes and streets, good factories and a high type of citizenship.

Mr. Tittsworth quoted men from three Indiana cities who said Rushville was the most beautiful city they had ever seen, not excepting their own. They were residents of Anderson, Richmond and Greensfield.

Mr. Arbuckle pointed out Rush county was recognized throughout the state as having as fertile, if not the most fertile soil; as well improved if not the most improved farms; the best telephone system; as good if not better roads than any other county; as strong a flow of natural gas as any other county; five railroads and an interurban line.

"These are things we live with every day and may not recognize, and we want others to know about it," he said.

Mr. Arbuckle commented on the flow of visitors to the I. O. O. F. home all the time and added, "If the K. of P. home is located here, when visitors come, they will pass through the most beautiful country to be found any place. We don't lay down the palm to anyone when it comes to beauty and we believe there is no better or higher type of citizenship."

He said a few Sundays ago 4000 Odd Fellows visited the home and that often during the week large delegations went there. He quoted State Auto association proven statistics to show a tourist just passing through Rushville.

LAFOLLETTE HOLDS BIG PRIMARY LEAD

Son of Former Wisconsin Senator Carries 63 Counties in Race for
G. O. P. Nomination

VOTE IS UNDER 50 PER CENT

Gov. Alfred E. Smith Emerges Victorious After Bitter Fight—
Mayor Hyman Defeated

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 16.—(U.P.)—Republican returns from 2,544 precincts out of Wisconsin's total of 2,687 today showed:

Robert LaFollette, Jr., 181,956.
Roy P. Wilcox, 80,941.
Daniel Woodward, 41,904.
Francis E. McGovern, 22,464.

The total vote cast was virtually fifty percent under the vote in 1924 presidential contest.

LaFollette carried 63 counties, Wilcox 5 and Woodward 3. Wilcox is the "regular" Republican nominee and Woodward are independent Republicans while LaFollette is the progressive Republican candidate.

The Democratic vote was so meagre that no representative of that party will appear on the election ballot and the "independent" forces are believed to be at such variance that "young Bob" is certain to continue his winning ways when the formal election is held Sept. 29. If he wins the election he will be sworn in as a senator before reaching his 31st birthday.

But equally important is the fact that young LaFollette has seized the reins held by his father and has assumed command of the Republican organization in Wisconsin. Although the vote was considerably lighter than in 1922 when the elder LaFollette won his last primary campaign, "young Bob" showed the same proportionate strength throughout the state as his father.

Roy P. Wilcox, former state senator and an avowed "Coolidge Republican," was beaten decisively. LaFollette's plurality over Wilcox may reach 100,000.

Wilcox, however, has not given up hope of defeating "young Bob." He has filed as an independent candidate and hopes to pick up sufficient strength during the next two weeks to give LaFollette a serious race. The vote is expected to be considerably heavier at the regular election.

New York, Sept. 16.—Governor Alfred E. Smith today emerged victorious from the bitterest battle of his political career, having reduced to shreds the influence of Wm. Randolph Hearst, publisher, in this state.

The end of Hearst's domination over New York City's politics came when Mayor John F. Hylan, whom he had supported with his newspapers for eight years, suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of state Senator "Jimmy" Walker, Tammany candidate and friend and protégé of Smith.

Walker won the Democratic mayoralty nomination by an indicated majority of 95,000.

In the November election, Walker will be opposed by Frank D. Waterman, fountain pen manufacturer who overwhelmingly won the Republican nomination from former Secretary of State John L. Lyons and William M. Bennett.

Return from 2,838 of the city's 2,969 election districts gave Walker 239,212 and Hylan 147,117.

RECEIVERSHIP CASE HEARD

The jury in the circuit court will be used for the first time Thursday, according to arrangements made this afternoon, as the case of the State against Omer Adams will be called for trial. He is charged with violating the liquor laws, and is held on two counts.

Evidence was heard this morning by Judge Sparks in the matter of a temporary receiver, as involved in the suit filed Tuesday by Oleanna B. Wagoner against James F. Honey, in which the suit is for the dissolution of a partnership, sale of property and for a receiver.

Judgment was rendered this morning in the case of A. L. Gary, administrator of the estate of William Owen, against Adam Richey. The action was on a note, and the defendant defaulted, with judgment being rendered for $84.76 and costs. The case of Elwood Macey against Emily Morris estate, of which Howard E. Henley is administrator, has been sent to Decatur county on a change of venue as applied for by the plaintiff. The action is a claim against the estate, in which $5,000 is demanded.

M'NAMARA TRIAL MOVING RAPIDLY

Witnesses Testify Head of Structural Iron Workers Union Tried to Intimidate Workmen

REIGN OF TERROR DEPICTED

Activity of Defendant During Erection of Elks Club Building in Indianapolis Recited

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 16.—(U.P.)—The trial of John J. McNamara, leader of the Structural Iron Workers union, charged with blackmail, progressed rapidly in the criminal court today.

McNamara, famous for his connection with the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times in 1910, sat quietly and heard Prosecutor Remy in his opening statement, charging him with attempting to institute a "reign of terror" in building unions in Indianapolis.

Before noon adjournment, six witnesses for the state had been heard. They testified McNamara at the head of a gang of men, looped a fifteen ton boiler at the new Elks club building, two years ago, and let it crash against one of the pillars of the building.

Others testified that workers, supporting McNamara, threw showers of nuts and bolts from the top of the building down upon men who were working on the ground floor.

The jury for McNamara's trial was completed just before adjournment after a special venire of 100 talesmen had been examined.

Two days were spent in picking the jury despite the repeated demand of Special Judge Ganse for greater speed in examining the prospective jurors.

The last two men put in the jury box were rounded up on the street by Sheriff Hawkins when the special venire was exhausted.

Through the testimony of nearly thirty witnesses, including labor leaders, contractors and workmen, the state will attempt to prove that McNamara used threats of violence to force contractors in Indianapolis to employ members of his union on construction jobs.

WATER FAMINE IN CITY THREATENED

Shortage Due to Two Factories
Drawing on City Supply After Their Wells Go Dry

NEW RESERVOIR PLANNED

Plans and Specifications for Willow Street and Two Alleys to Be Paved Not Presented

For the first time in years, Rushville is threatened with a water shortage, it was revealed Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the city council, and steps to provide for more water will be considered at a special meeting to be held Friday night.

The water famine is due largely to the heavy drain on the city supply, caused by privately owned wells going dry. The large well at the Innis, Pearce and Company factory, was among those to go dry, and all of the water supply, not only for the factory engines and equipment, but also for the manufacture of ice, is now coming from the city, and the drain is enormous.

In addition to these industries, the well at the Rushville Furniture factory, also has been exhausted and the city water is now in use there. These three places alone take enough water from the city to keep the engines at the city plant working at full speed to keep the reservoir filled.

Danger of a fire that would require much water, would not only be disastrous, but would also close three factories at once. Tuesday night at six o'clock the reservoir at the plant contained only 14 feet of water, according to Supt. Mahin, and this supply of water would not have lasted 30 minutes in case of a fire that would require the use of both fire pumps.

The council in the past few years has placed 46 wells in the ground, it was disclosed, at a cost of more than $1,000 a well. The modern, efficient way of locating water wells has been presented to the council on numerous occasions, and a representative was present Tuesday night who again went in detail and explained his plan. Action on advertising for bids for the work was deferred until Friday night, when the matter will be given more consideration.

The company that installs wells under the proposed plan, would sink a 50 inch well in Memorial park, near Twelfth street, where a test hole was drilled several months ago. The company creates a vast reservoir beneath the ground, and guarantees 600,000 gallons a day, or no pay. The 600,000 gallons is more than the present daily capacity.

In addition, the representative stated that the 600,000 gallons is the minimum; and said he would not be afraid to state that the well would be a million gallons or more. The contract is to furnish this water supply on a guarantee for a year. The water is to meet all health requirements, or no pay.

Instead of piping the water from the under ground reservoir at the park to the city reservoir, the company installs equipment on the ground to furnish pressure, and the water is sent directly into the mains, with an automatic control to increase the pressure in case of fire. The city reservoir could be kept filled and used also in cases of emergencies.

No estimate was given for such a well, but the representative stated that the machinery was in use near here, and could be moved here on short notice, and that a good price reduction on the proposition would be offered if bids were advertised. On account of an emergency existing and because there is said to be no other firm in the business to offer competition, it might result in some definite action in the matter Friday night.

Residents of North Willow street who constructed a private sewer system two years ago, petitioned the council asking that it be taken over by the city as a part of the regular system. A check for $32.58, as balance due the city, accompanied the petition, and it was acted upon favorably.

Samples of the kind of stucco material for the city hall were looked over, and the council made

KNOCKS OUT THAT TIRED FEELING IN NO TIME. PUTS "KICK" INTO YOU

No Need of Dragging An Undernourished Body Around the House or at Work

If there is anything that gets one's goat it is to have that dragged out, knocked out, down and out feeling all day long. One gets up in the morning feeling that way. Did you ever stop to think that it is just WEAKNESS. Now what makes one weak? Lack of nourishing food. But the average man or woman will tell you that he or she gets plenty of food. Probably so, probably they have had TOO MUCH FOOD IN THE PAST SO THAT NOW THE FOOD JUST LIES THERE IN AN UNDIGESTED MASS, THROWING OFF GAS AND DISTRESSING THE PERSON THUS AFFECTED.

It doesn't make any difference how much you eat but it does make a difference how much good you get out of what you do eat. If you are one of those who have the symptoms mentioned, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of DI-JO. Take it exactly according to directions and you'll find your food furnishing nourishment to the body. You'll find the gas disappearing. You'll find your body taking on new life and you'll be taking a greater interest in everything.

The bowels may be sluggish and if so it is just as much to your advantage to see that poisonous waste of the body is eliminated as it is to see that the proper food is placed in the stomach to nourish the tissues. If the bowels are lazy, get a bottle of Di-Vac. It isn't harsh and it will give you relief. At your druggist.

Mid-Week Prayer Meeting

The topic for the mid-week prayer meeting at St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening at 7 o'clock will be "The Lights and Shadows of an Annual Conference."

Pledged Phi Delta Theta

Donald Dean, a Freshman at Indiana University, and son of Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Dean of this city, has been pledged to the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, according to word received here.

Opens Office Here

Dr. C. C. Aitkins, of Richmond, Ind., and who is extensively related in the northern part of the county, has opened his office in the Odd Fellows building in North Morgan street, and is ready for practice. He has been practicing in Richmond for the past two years, and before that time was an interne in a hospital in Indianapolis. He is a graduate of Indiana Medical school.

Delegation From Homer

A delegation from Homer attended the revival services at Center Christian church Tuesday evening. Baptismal services will follow the regular meeting tonight. The meetings were opened last Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. H. R. Hosier, and will continue until one week from next Sunday. Music by the Plum Creek male quartet Tuesday night was very much appreciated.

ing through a town on the average is worth 90 cents. They visit Greensburg at the rate of 40,000 a year, he pointed out. The home buys all shoes, most of the groceries and all dry goods in Greensburg.

"These are some of the things," he concluded, "to show you that such an institution would be worth much to Rushville."

Mr. Tittsworth pointed out to Mr. Wade that Rush county is the best in the world for diversified farming. He referred to the production of 200,000 hogs a year, more corn and more wheat than any county in the state during a recent year and four championships in agricultural lines. He presented Mr. Wade with a pamphlet about Rush county and said we would vouch for its accuracy.

Mr. Walden asserted the general morale of the people of Franklin had been lifted to a higher plane by the Masonic home. No other thing had had such an influence for good in the community, he stated, with the possible exception of Franklin college, and he pointed out that Franklin college had been advertised by people going to the home. He alluded to the high type of people who live in such homes.

Mr. Walden referred to the schooling situation in Franklin and Mr. Arbuckle said that the Odd Fellows home met that with transfers from the counties where the children had lived.

"I am sure the lodge will want to locate this home in a town whose sun is rising, and not setting," Mr. Tittsworth asserted. "This has been the best building year in the city's history, with four public buildings, many homes and streets under construction."

He then introduced A. L. Biggs, who said his committee had eight options on all sides of Rushville, many of which were priced reasonably. He made a plea for locating the home, pointing out Rushville had enough things to advertise, but not enough of it is done. He was reminded of a story by a small girl living in California, who replying to jabs about her state, said there were just three classes of people—those who wanted to live in California, those who were on their way to California and those who live there.

"If we fall down, all right," he said in closing, "but let's make an effort to locate this home."

Mr. Wade asserted the committee was fair-minded and would do only that which was best for the K. of P. home, in determining on a location. He commented on what had been said about Rushville and vicinity and said one of our biggest assets is the fact that Rush county carries more life insurance than any in the state outside of Marion.

Mr. Wade described the K. of P. homes in the United States and explained the movement which led up to the present effort to build a home. His committee will recommend to the grand lodge, he said, that no home be started until $200,000 is pledged. The committee now has $120,000. He expressed the opinion the balance would be raised in a few months and the home started early next year. He estimated the initial population of the home at about 200 and said the cost of operation would be about $80,000 a year. He showed the order had resources ample enough to support the home well.

The rule of all Pythian homes, Mr. Wade asserted, is to buy all things in the town where it is located. He pointed out that money coming to Rushville from visitors would eventually touch everyone and that the money put up to get the home would soon come back. He referred to the high type of people who visit such a home, and also appealed to the better side of his hearers by showing the great good done by such homes.

"Can you do anything better for your community," he asked, "than help an institution that is making good citizens?"

He said he wanted to see erected at the home a hospital that would meet the needs of all members of the local lodge without means of providing hospital facilities.

Music by the Rushville Boosters quartet was a pleasing feature of the meeting and both numbers sung were loudly applauded.

a selection. The contract has been awarded previously to Charles Stamm of Glenwood, and he will commence work next Monday, it is understood.

On account of a misunderstanding plans and specifications were not presented for the Willow street paving, and also for the paving of two alleys down town, and the engineer was again asked to present the plans at an early meeting of the council so the matter could be pushed through before cold weather.

The police committee was asked to furnish police protection at Memorial park next Sunday afternoon when a band concert is scheduled to take place. Police will be used to direct traffic and regulate parking within the park.

A motion was made compelling property owners in West Eleventh street, from Harrison west to Jackson, to make necessary sewer taps from the center of the street to the curb-line for each separate lot. This is done because of the paving of the street, and is required by an ordinance so that the street can't be opened for sewer connections within a period of years. The order applied only to the south side of the street, as the school site occupies the north side.

The bid for curb and gutters in Eleventh street, as received last week, was rejected. The curb will not be advertised at this time, but will be installed after the concrete street is built. It will not be necessary for combined curb and gutter, it was disclosed, because the street itself is concrete and will not require any gutter.

The Memorial park boulevard is failing to hold up as a street should it was stated at the meeting, and steps to repair the street will be taken. The street, cost $14,000 last year, it was pointed out, and for a small amount more a permanent street could have been constructed, which would have ended future costs. An asphaltum preparation will be investigated for resurfacing the street, which will help preserve it.

MOVIE NOTES

"In Love With Love"

Those who remember the delightful stage play "In Love With Love," will be glad to see it again on the screen at the Princess theatre today and Thursday. The screen rights were purchased by William Fox, and it was produced under the direction of Rowland V. Lee. Marguerite De La Motte and Allan Forest are featured.

It is the story of a girl, restless, exceedingly attractive and entirely without conscience. She is continually surrounded by ardent suitors, and keeps them all dangling helplessly for her own amusement. She lets them make love to her, she accepts their rings and sent them away. She didn't know what she wanted. She wasn't in love with any of them. She was—as she discovered herself when the right man appeared—in love with love.

It happened that the right man was interested in bridges and not in girls, so it looked for a time as though the charming little flirt was about to be given some of her own bitter medicine.

Ethel Clayton Returns

Modern youth with its willful fancies furnishes the theme for the William Fox production, "Wings of Youth," which opened at the Castle theatre yesterday.

This film marks the return to the screen of one of America's most popular actresses, Ethel Clayton.

Use of the Radio

When radio was perfected to such a degree that its use was not limited to some narrow-visioned people honestly believed that the future of the newspaper was doomed; that its usefulness as a disseminator of news would largely cease because of the universality of the radio and its speed in carrying news.

But all of this has been found to be untrue. Instead, the newspaper is converting the radio to its own purposes and is an effective agency in providing information about ra-

Hints For Women

More important to women than the question of food, the latest fashion work to beautify the home or points in etiquette or dress, is the subject of health. There are thousands of women everywhere affected with stubborn ailments which make life a burden. These ailments may be easily overcome by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a woman's medicine for woman's ills prepared from roots and herbs.
After three generations of success,
it is recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

dies and in printing programs to be broadcast.

In fact, the newspapers have gone farther in turning radio to their own use. The London correspondent of an American press association wanted an immediate interview with the commander of the U. S. S. Seat-le at Wellington, New Zealand, 14,000 miles away—and he got it by radiophone.

The radio interview, which perhaps is but the forerunner of a newsgathering method soon to be more generally relied upon, enabled the correspondent to correct some misapprehension concerning the fleet's New Zealand visit by establishing the fact that there had been no rioting or fighting between American sailors and New Zealand police.

Will it be a Warning?

On Ohio state roads a white cross is erected for every person killed in automobile accidents at the spot where the accident occurred.

Motorists soon learn, though not familiar with the meaning of the crosses, the significance of the silent danger signals.

But will they be a warning? Will these somber tokens of death stop the speed-crazed driver who thinks neither of himself, or of those in other cars?

Surely the sight of a white cross at the roadside near a dangerous curve or beside a railroad crossing, ought to make some impression. It ought to bring a vision of crumpled bodies and wreckage, and a personal application of the consequences if care and caution are not exercised.

But after seeing the results of some accidents and reading of the carelessness of drivers that leads to death, one may well wonder whether anything short of an iron gate will keep some automobile drivers off railroad tracks when trains are approaching—or whether a warning of certain death would cause them to slacken their speed.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON — "For blind, stunning, unreasoning terror," said an army aviator.
"Life hasn't anything to offer equal to the sensation of a man's first parachute jump. I mean letting go for the drop. After the chute opens it's all right. Anticipation's the killing part."

"WHEN the United States entered the war I was cast for an artillery observer. After a little preliminary training they strapped a parachute on my back, looking and feeling as little like anything that would let me down easy as any other little package from dry goods store."

"They showed me how to pull the ring that opened it, and then they bundled me into the basket with the instructor. Up shot the balloon. I was scared to begin with."

"The balloon's motion upset my stomach, too. I felt deathly sick."
"About a mile high, it seemed to me. 'Over you go,' said the instructor."

"CAREFULLY I lowered myself, gripping the basket edge with my fingers. I didn't dare to look down."

Washington Letter

"Bliss," shouted the instructor looking over me. And I found I couldn't let go.
"Physically, my fingers wouldn't unclasp."

"Bliss!" The instructor hit me on the knuckles with a little maket.
"It broke my hold."

"Whoo!" I shot down, maybe a hundred feet. Up went my vitals into my throat. Just as your insides do when an elevator sinks down under you too fast—only a thousand times worse. I gave the ring a yank . . .

"WHAT'S that you say?"
You'd think a man'd be too frightened to pull the ring?

"Don't you believe it. That's the one thing he isn't too frightened to do. I pulled it all right."

"Snap!" It was the chute opening up overhead. Yoop! I felt an awful jerk, nearly tearing me apart.

"Swish! down went my giblets
to the soles of my feet—the elevator set again, only coming to a sharp stop this time, after a swift slump down the shaft. I myself went gently in the air, with the earth coming up to meet me, not very fast."

Rush County Federated Club News

The national convention of Federated Clubs at West Baden last June demonstrated a marked activity on the part of all those present in general and of Mrs. Sherman, national president, in particular, to get "down to business" and talk shop. The accomplishment of this meeting was thorough as to every division of activity in club life, and since that convention, the national officers have toiled all summer to put into working form the cooperative aim of 1925-26. In October the state convention is due to meet at Hammond and we are all urged to come.

Some of us must go to that meeting and place our support at the disposal of those officials who stand up capable of helping the individual club to better things.
If, for instance, the county could finance one delegate to this meeting each year in return for a personal report to the respective fourteen clubs of the county the dividends would surely repay the per capita expense or taxation. The clubs could not help but broaden their vision and be more eager to pull together for the better things which women do so well.

To attend this state convention would prove an appropriate stimulant at the beginning to our club year. The contacts are inspiring and you take more than you bring every time.

PRESS CHAIRMAN

The program committee of the Delphian Society met with its chairman, Mrs. Ruby Chambers, on Monday evening at her home in East Seventh street to plan for the coming club year assignments. The new year looks particularly attractive because it will consist of a study of "music—its composers and origin," with descriptive victrola suggestions each meeting. The first meeting of the year will be with Mrs. Horatio Havens at the Elks Club Friday afternoon, September 18th.

The Ripley Country Club will open its club year with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ertel Price in Carthage. The program on this occasion is to be of keen interest to each member.

Mrs. Blanche Greenwood of Raleigh was hostess to the Tuesday Study club this afternoon of September 15. Members gave a favorite poem in response to roll call and Mrs. Cora Aiken gave a review of the club year, 1924-25.

At the business meeting club activities were planned and two members were added: Mrs. Ollie Clifton and Mrs. Susan Rine.

The American Literary Club opened its year, September 9th, with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Adeline Dugle in North Morgan street. In response to roll call, the members gave current events. Mrs. Dugle, the incoming president, offered greetings.

Mrs. LeVina Gardner gave "Our Southern Mountaineers."
Then a new system of questions were inaugurated, which are of a very high order. They can do no less than stimulate thought and study if not rejuvenate an entire year's work.
Congratulations "American." These questions were under the directions of Mrs. Florence Abernethy at this meeting.

The Research Literary Club of Milroy opened the year's work with a meeting, September 8th, at the home of Mrs. Flo Frazier. In answer to roll call the membership responded with current events. Mrs. Mildred Harcourt featured a piano solo.
Mrs. Maude Lines discussed "Land and Peoples of Palestine." Mrs.
Edna Shelhorn gave "The Life of Christ." Mrs. Anna Sweet gave the "Thirty Years of Preparation and the Year of Obscurity." The program closed with a vocal solo by Mrs. Della Booth.

PLAYERS AWARDED FOOTBALL SUITS

Indiana University Squad to Leave out to Turn Out for Practice in Many Years

90 SUITS FIRST DAY

Line of Players of Foot and Fight
Waiting to Appearance—Now
Suits to Store

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 10.— Candidates for the Indiana University football machine were issued their varsity uniforms this week.
Some 90 suits were given out and at least 25 more are to receive the Crimson outfit.

The squad is one of the largest to turn out in the last few years.
Judging from the caliber of the candidates Indiana should be well represented on the gridiron this season.

A line with plenty of beef and fight is making its appearance on the horizon while the Indiana backfield should be composed of speed demons.

Bishop, Childs, Dykhuizen, George
Fisher, Walter Fisher, Bernoske, Homan, Hall, Maloy, Nessel, Hobbs, Kelso, Wilson and Zaiser, leading linemen from '24, are heavyweights and if anything they are a little heavier than the usual run of Crimson forwards.

A band of ball carriers with speed aplenty should be developed from the list of backfield candidates.
Captain Marks, Beavitt, Marker,
Prusha, Salmi, Tobin, Stamates, Cousin and Zivich promise several fast merchants.

Normal practicing two weeks before school opens, leaves the cat out of the bag that the Terre Haute school will invade the territory of the Hoosiers in an effort to triumph over the "Scrappin' Hoosiers." Normal's record last year along with the return of eight regulars says, "Beware to the Hoosiers."

The Syracuse and Purdue games are attracting the attention of football fans far and wide. Reservations for these two games have drifted in from all parts of the country and the new stadium promises to be filled to capacity when the tilt gets underway.

The early press reports have it that Syracuse will have one of the strongest teams in its history and will come to Bloomington in an effort to wipe off the defeat administered to it in 1919.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Tom Zachary, veteran Washington pitcher held the Tigers safe all the way and helped win his game with a home run, 5 to 3.

Kent Greenfield, young Giant pitcher, allowed six scattered hits and beat the Reds 4 to 0, louting a half game off the Pirates' lead.

Sammy Gray outpointed Red Faber in a pitcher's battle and the Athletics downed the White Sox, 4 to 2.

The Browns did not get a hit off Ehmanke for seven innings, but they

The honored guest received several beautiful presents. As the closing feature of the party, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Better BUICK owners are Masters of the Road

Once you have driven the 75 horsepower, 75-mile-an-hour Better Buick;

Once you have wheeled it over some particularly tough hill—in high gear—gaining speed all the way;

Once you have observed the way it assumes the lead in traffic;

Once you have accepted, on some open road, the challenge of some car that boasts of speed, and have seen the Better Buick leave it farther and farther behind;

Once you have checked its economical gasoline consumption against your friends' cars—

Then you will realize fully that the Better Buick, with its 75 horsepower Valve-in-Head engine, gives you power—speed—and inexpensive performance like no other car you have known.

The best way to discover how very much the Better Buick has added to the pleasure of driving is to drive a Better Buick. We have one waiting for your telephone call.

Finds What She Was Looking For

"For ten long years I had suffered with my stomach. I tried everything without relief, but after one dose of Mays' Wonderful Remedy I knew I had obtained what I had been looking for and I took the full course of treatment. It is going on 4 years now and I have never had any pains or bloating since." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.
